

Elizabeth Davies joined Gepp Solicitors in 2022 and is currently a trainee solicitor based within the Family department.

In 2021, Elizabeth gained a distinction in the Legal Practice Course.

Elizabeth previously worked as a police officer in the Metropolitan Police Service. She held a wide variety of both uniform and investigative roles. This provided her with invaluable experience of interviewing suspects, supporting victims and witnesses, statement taking and attending court. She went on to obtain a First Class Law Degree from the Open University and then decided to retrain to become a Solicitor.

Approach

Elizabeth is calm, kind and approachable. She is keen to make people feel at ease and aims to provide a customer focussed professional service.
